

About Us

Stellar Hearth Products, a division of Hearth & Home Technologies

Stellar Hearth was formed to create and build indoor and outdoor fireplaces and fire pits that are both beautiful and innovative.

Our management and design team have a combined 150+ years of experience in the hearth industry, and use that knowledge to allow your ideas and dreams to become a reality for your home or business. Everything we do is a balance between inspiration and engineering prowess to provide the most extensive line of fireplace products on the market today, all built with care and attention to detail in our Minnesota headquarters.

Coupled with that, we have partnered with some of the best hearth professionals throughout the USA and Canada to simplify the entire process.
